

Developing a Responsive Web App for a Leadership Program

About The Project

A leadership coaching organization launched a focused program for business leaders and professionals who were looking to achieve their goals in a collaborative way. The client was looking for a solution that would bring all the participants, giving them the ability to stay updated with the latest happenings, events, and learnings associated with the program.

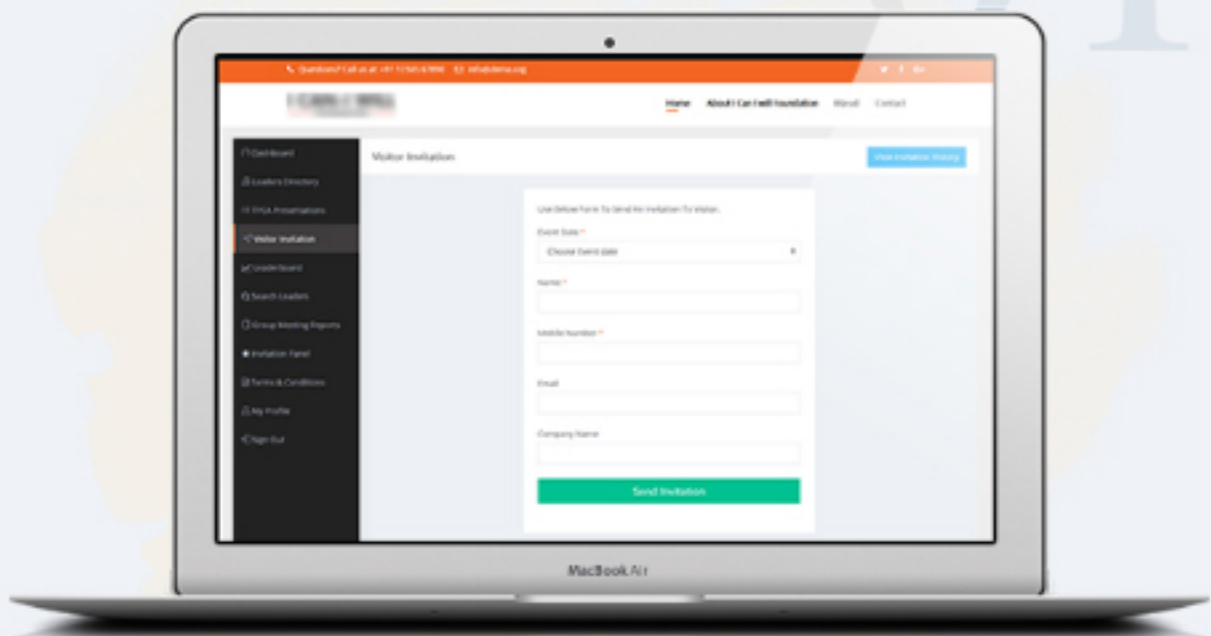

Team Sufalam collaborated with the client to develop an advanced web application that enabled the organization to provide information related to the program and gave participants the power to see all the developments associated with the program on a single screen.

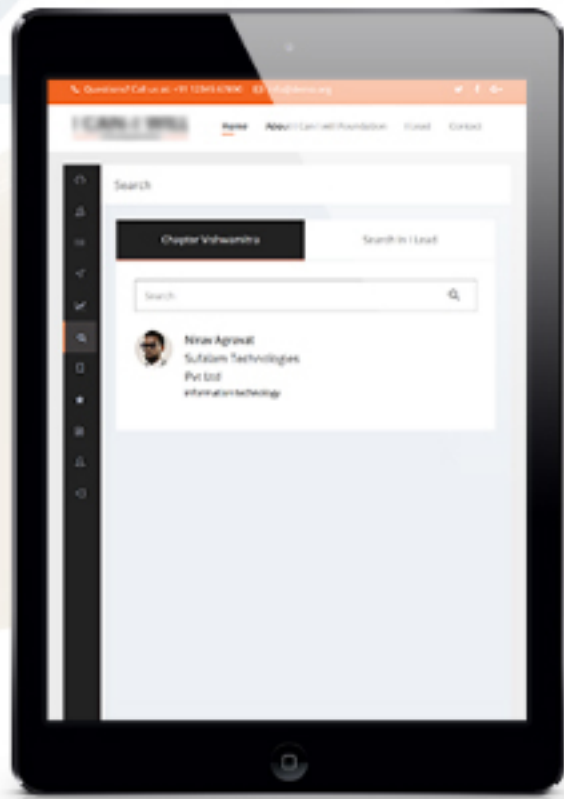

Solution Offered

Team Sufalam's solution- a responsive web app gave participants the power to login via any mobile browser and interact with others via a feed/wall. Users can post their views and updates and can check profiles of other participants.

The web app was endowed with capabilities to invite guests to a specific session of the chapter. Also, a central leaderboard showcased top leaders who are most active in the group. Session scheduling capabilities were also added for users to see upcoming sessions, past presentations and more, from anywhere, anytime.
